THE PROJECT

The Center for Rural Health (CRH) at UND administers the Flex grant program. On September 1, 2019 CRH UND was awarded the Flex EMS Supplement to address Focus Area 2:

To implement a demonstration project on data collection and reporting for a set of rural-relevant EMS quality measures.

North Dakota received one of only four funding opportunities nationwide. The overall concept involves seeking stakeholder consensus during the measure selection process, testing the processes for collection, training and mentoring, and reporting the measures. This three year supplement grant period will end on August 31, 2022.

BE A PART OF IMPROVING NORTH DAKOTA EMS

- Attend the EMS Association's monthly town hall meeting
- Tune into online educational opportunities quarterly and get continuing education credits through Project Echo
- Use one of the subject matter experts to start implementing quality improvement projects
- Have your agency try out the measures and provide feedback
- Watch North Dakota EMS show improvement in the areas we focus on and see how we stack up against other rural areas
